

AFIRE TIP #19

Start a Zoom Prayer Group

Virtual Prayer Group for Those in or Seeking Recovery

People in or seeking recovery are often too ashamed to reach out to their churches for guidance and support.

Your AFIRE group can help by providing a safe, anonymous (if desired) space for such people to join together in prayer.

Participants can choose to change their names and block their video to remain anonymous throughout the prayer period.

Zoom prayer groups are a great idea for:

- Those in or seeking recovery

- Those who have loved ones in active addiction or in recovery
- Those who have lost a loved one to addiction

We hope you'll consider starting such a prayer group. In doing so, you'll be spreading faith, hope, and love to all those who may never have walked through the doors of the church. Hopefully, in time, your compassion will help them to feel more comfortable to do so.

Don't forget to spread the word about your Zoom prayer group to local recovery centers, recovery homes, support groups, treatment centers, etc.

As always, we're here to help get you started!
